

Guide to finding web images of John Muir

This document includes description and links to images of John Muir.

It has been created for www.discoverjohnmuir.com to help celebrate:

- Year of Natural Scotland 2013

www.snh.gov.uk/natural

- and Homecoming 2014

<http://www.visitscotland.com/see-do/homecoming-scotland-2014>

A good starting point is the Sierra Club web site, follow links to media and pictures.

www.sierraclub.org/john_muir_exhibit/pictures

The Wisconsin Electronic Reader has a gallery of about 15 images.

www.library.wisc.edu/etext/WIReader/Galleries/Muir.html

The John Muir National Historic Site web page has a few images via the flickr button.

www.nps.gov/jomu/photosmultimedia/index.htm

Search 'John Muir' on the Library of Congress for images, including some less used ones.

www.loc.gov/search/?q=John+Muir+photos

The gallery from the National Park Service has a good collection.

www.cr.nps.gov/museum/exhibits/jomu/slideShows/JOMUportraits/3b00011u.html

Wikimedia Commons has a couple of images that can be used freely.

http://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/John_Muir

John Muir images are available for a charge at the Science Photo Library.

<http://www.sciencephoto.com>

Alternatives

It is worth considering other images that help portray John Muir.

E.g. The California State Quarter issued by the United States Mint, depicts naturalist and conservationist John Muir admiring Yosemite Valley's monolithic granite headwall known as Half Dome with a soaring California condor.

www.sierraclub.org/john_muir_exhibit/coin